Infinitas Short Story

Election Promises by Daniel S. S. Santos

Dave slowly opened his eyes, waking up to realise he was drooling all over the couch. He sat up and wiped the drool from his face, checking to make sure no one had seen. The lounge was empty. Jerry was probably in his room still asleep.

Dave stood up and instantly wished that he hadn't. Blood rushed to his head and pounded against the inside of his skull. A night with the boys never came without pain. He took a deep breath and searched for his phone and wallet. Once he found them he shoved them in his pockets, opened the door and started walking home.

He squinted; the afternoon sunlight seemed much too bright. Home was only ten minutes away, but with his hangover Dave was in no mood for the walk.

He walked through the park at the end of Jerry's street and reached into his pocket. He pulled out his phone, about to check the time, when his phone was engulfed in flames.

Dave dropped what was left of his phone with a start. What the hell just happened? He checked his hand, making sure it wasn't burnt. It was fine, but his skin felt strangely warm. He clenched his fist as the warmth grew, intensifying until his fist burst into flames.

Dave stared, wide eyed, at his fist. It was wreathed in fire, covering his hand like a second skin. He uncurled his hand and watched in amazement as flames danced up his arm, twisting and leaping, until they stopped at his shoulder.

This is unbelievable, he thought to himself. It was like something from his childhood fantasies.

Flames exploded across his body, burning his clothes to ash. He gazed at the fire that covered his body then threw back his head and laughed in joy. It was a miracle!

He was struck by a sudden urge to test himself. He concentrated, testing the flames like a newfound appendage. He clenched his fists, and a flash like the glint of sun on steel lit up the park. Dave flared, burning like a sun until shimmering heat waves made the park waver like a mirage.

The flames disappeared and Dave fell to the ground. Struggling to catch his breath, he stood up and surveyed the extent of his power. The ground was charred black and the playground lay in ruins, looking like the surviving remnant from a holocaust.

Dave couldn't wipe the smile from his face. This was a dream come true. He was special. He could be a hero, a real life superhero. He had to get home and tell his family.

He started running and suddenly realised he was naked. He cloaked himself in flames and ran home, a living fire that raced through the streets.

When he finally made it home he dispelled his skin of fire and burst into his house. His parents sat in the lounge, smiling at the sight of him.

"You'll never guess what happened to me."

"You got super powers," his dad said.

Dave's smile dropped. His parents laughed, shaking their heads.

"Didn't you pay any attention during the election. Rudd promised to give super powers to every Australian citizen. It was the cornerstone of his campaign."

Dave shook his head, his dreams evaporating as he remembered the election promise.

His dad smiled as a glass of water floated up from the table and glided into his hand. "Cool isn't it."

Reviews

Feel welcome to submit a book review for us to publish here. If you have read a book and have an opinion on it share it with the other readers in our community. Also, in the shop we have several books for which we are seeking reviewers, and would exchange for a review.

Prodigal by Marc D Giller, reviewed by Brian Walls

<http://www.infinitas.com.au/Product.php?bar=9780553587876>

This is the sequel to Hammerjack of 2 years ago. The first book – the author's first novel - came across with sterling recommendations from Richard Morgan, Neal Asher & Australia's own Max Barry.

It can be reviewed as "ye olde cyberpunk" as so many of its ideas came in the eighties or late seventies: massive corporations, loss of nation-states, supercomputers, cyborgs, Martian expeditions with political fallout, ultra fast jet flight, old cities mixed with the newest "tech".

I especially liked the portrayal of old Vienna (the ringed centre), Singapore's airport, New York and Paris – all places I had visited & compared to the writer's vision.

The characters are definitely larger than life – hammerjack is the buzzword for professional or super hackers. The prose is pleasant to read & the pace is not deliberately dizzying.

The sequel's main protagonist or heroine is Lea Prism who has been refashioned from a hammerjack into a secret agent fighting against the sinister Inru (a terrorist cult) one hundred years from now or so. She definitely has a touch of the Matrix about her – and so does her dead boyfriend!

The story ranges from Chernobyl to Mars (the Olympus Mons) with the Inru's last desperate attempt to rule the world. It's scope is world wide, fast paced and cinematic. Methinks, Marc Giller wants somebody to make this a film or three....

Wolf Brother by Michelle Paver, reviewed by Josephine Crowley

<http://www.infinitas.com.au/Product.php?bar=9781842551134>

Wolf Brother is the story of boy called Torak and a wolf cub called Wolf and the adventures they share and they people they meet as they journey through the Ancient Darkness. But this story is much, much more than that. It is exciting and wondrous and at times very frightening. Michell Paver is an exceptional writer with a gift for imagination and words which will hold readers of all ages enthralled.

I read Wolf Brother very quickly, it is a real "couldn't put it down" book. It left me wanting to follow Torak and his companions on more of his troubles through life as he seeks his final destiny.

Expand your mind, Enter new worlds.

The Ruby Dice (Skolian Empire)

Despite their own aversion to war, the leaders of two powerful interstellar empires--Jaibriol, head of the Eubian Concord, and Kelric, ruler of the Skolian Imperiate--find their realms plunging toward the possibility of devastating conflict as each man desperately hides a secret that could bring about his downfall, in a new novel in the Skolian Empire series. HC $47.95

Sarah Ash

Tracing the Shadow

Rescuing a starving young orphan girl from the streets, a member of the much feared Guerriers of the Commanderie's Inquisition is unaware that the child is the daughter of one of the mages they had just burned at the stake, and as Celestine grows to womanhood, her beautiful singing voice could provide the key to revenge on the betrayer who destroyed her father. HC $51.95

Neal Asher

Prador Moon (Polity)

The Polity Collective, which benignly rules numerous star systems, has come up against a chilling opponent. The crablike Prador are bloodthirsty aliens bent on crushing the Polity and stealing its runcible technology... and they possess a frightening superiority in space warfare.

Two wild-card humans, a vengeance-driven soldier and a runcible technician, must now combine their talents in an attempt to stop a seemingly invincible Prador warship from incinerating yet another Polity world.

Combining violence and cunning in a race against time, this is classic space opera from one of the new masters of the genre. TP $32.95

Isaac Asimov

Pebble in the Sky

Hurtled through time from 1949 Chicago to an Earth during the heyday of the first Galactic Empire, retired tailor Joseph Schwartz finds himself on a backwater, insignificant planet with much of its land ruined by radioactivity and so poor that its inhabitants are sentenced to death at the age of sixty--and Joseph is sixty-two--in a new edition of the author's first novel. HC $51.95

End of Eternity

Shortly to be filmed by Ridley Scott, the best time-travel story since H.G. Wells' The Time Machine, by the Grand Master of science fiction, the story of Andrew Harlan, Technician and Eternal. Andrew Harlan's job is to range through past and present centuries monitoring and even altering time's myriad cause-and-effect relationships. As a Technician with the Allwhen Council, he initiates Reality Changes that may affect the lives of as many as fifty billion people--and a million or more of them may be so drastically affected as to be considered new individuals. Above all, therefore, a Technician must be dispassionate. An emotional make-up is a distinct handicap. Then Harlan meets Noys and falls victim to a phenomenon older than time itself--love. Years of self-discipline are cast aside as Harlan uses the awesome techniques of the Eternals to twist time so that he and Noys might survive--together. APB $21.95

Joanne Duncalf*The Zookeeper's Menagerie*

The Animals are in charge of the world. After delivering a controversial speech on religious freedom, high school valedictorian Mariel Stone upsets a lot of people in her small, provincial town of Green Valley. But there is one person she does impress: It's the mysterious Zookeeper who sends a messenger on a white horse to escort her to his phantasmagorical land, a place called the Menagerie. And as soon as Mariel arrives, she realizes she is in for one amazing ride. Long ago, the animals inhabiting the Menagerie walled out the Zookeeper, throwing him into exile and their world into chaos. Now, invading packs of marauding wolves deal out their own brand of justice, deadly snakes have taken over the Reptilian Paradise, and worst of all, a terrifying dragon now rules the Capital City. Mariel must join forces with the peaceful creatures of the land in a quest to uproot these sinister evil beasts and restore the Zookeeper to his rightful position--before the Menagerie is forever lost to darkness. TP $32.95

Colby Jansen has been raising her step-siblings, Ginny and Paul, single-handedly since her beloved stepfather, Armando Chevez, died. She's also been working herself into the ground to keep the family ranch running, but now she's got a real fight on her hands. Members of the Chevez family, along with two of the powerful De La Cruz brothers, for whom Colby's family has worked for centuries, arrive at her door, intending to take custody of the children and dispose of the ranch. For ancient Carpathian Rafael De La Cruz, the world has become dark, and he is in danger of turning vampire. But when he meets Colby, he knows immediately that she is the one who could save him. Colby finds the handsome Rafael threatening but, against her better judgement, she is also irresistibly drawn to him. They quickly find that they are an equal match in terms of fiery temperament and stubbornness, but when an ancient and powerful vampire begins stalking Colby and her family, she and Rafael combine forces to combat a deadly evil... APB $17.99

Bartlemy Goodman is approximately 1500 years old. An albino of Greek parentage he was born in Byzantium amidst the decline of the Roman Empire and now resides in the village of Thornyhill, England with his dog, Hoover.

Bartlemy is one of the Gifted. But long experience has taught him the perils of the power of the witch-kind and so throughout the ages has channelled his considerable talents into cooking, his culinary prowess becoming the stuff of legend: he worked for the Borgias, was among the first to discover chocolate and even taught the likes of Escoffier.

On a warm evening in 1991 a young homeless woman holding a baby turns up on Bartlemy's doorstep and he senses destiny at work. The woman's name is Annie Ward and her son, Nathan, is an exceptional child as Annie cannot account for his conception. Soon Bartlemy comes to believe that the boy was created beyond the Gate of Death by a superior being for a special purpose.

Whilst Nathan grows and Bartlemy continues to watch over the small family, strange occurrences begin to plague the village. The Thorn family were once the guardians of a strange cup of greenish stone and set with jewels. When it was lost, the family's fortune soon followed suit. Rumoured to have been stolen by the Nazis during the war it has now turned up at Sotheby's and the last of the Thorns is determined to get it back by proving the original sale APB $20.99

Stephen King*Duma Key*

DUMA KEY is the engaging, fascinating story of a man who discovers an incredible talent for painting after a freak accident in which he loses an arm. He moves to a 'new life' in Duma Key, off Florida's West Coast; a deserted strip, part beach, part weed-tangled, owned by a patroness of the arts whose twin sisters went missing in the 1920s. Duma Key is where out-of-season hurricanes tears lives apart and a powerful undertow lures lost and tormented souls. Here Freemantle is inspired to paint the amazing sunsets. But soon the paintings become predictive, even dangerous. Freemantle knows the only way forward is to discover what happened to the twin sisters - and what is the secret of the strange old lady who holds the key? The story is about friendship, about the bond between a father and his daughter. And about memory, truth and art. It is also a metaphor for the life and inspiration of a writer, and an exploration of the nature, power and influence of fiction. TP $35 CD $95 HC $56.95

Cormac McCarthy*The Road*

Winner - Pulitzer Prize for Fiction 2007

Winner - James Tait Black Memorial Prize for Fiction

The searing, post-apocalyptic novel destined to become Cormac McCarthy's masterpiece.

A father and his son walk alone through burned America. Nothing moves in the ravaged, nuclear landscape save the ash on the wind. It is cold enough to crack stones, and when the snow falls it is grey. The sky is dark. Their destination is the coast, although they don't know what, if anything, awaits them there. They have nothing; just a pistol to defend themselves against the lawless bands that stalk the road, the clothes they are wearing, a cart of scavenged food – and each other.

The Road is the profoundly moving story of a journey. It boldly imagines a future in which no hope remains, but in which the father and his son, "each other's world entire", are sustained by love. Awesome in the totality of its vision, it is an unflinching meditation on the worst and the best that we are capable of: ultimate destructiveness, desperate tenacity, and the tenderness that keeps two people alive in the face of total devastation.

Resurrection: The Beginning (Scions 01)

Everyone believed vampires were extinct. Everyone was wrong.

When Ariel Swanson wrote a novel about vampires, she hoped it would exorcise her fear of the creatures that had, not so long ago, terrorized the human population.

Instead, it brought her to their attention.

And to the attention of Jachin Black - a man banished from the Saguinas, a vampire pack, and forced to hunt among the despised humans. For he clung to the prophecy given years ago, of a better way for his kind to live - a prophecy Ariel unknowingly used as the basis of her novel.

Ariel hates and fears vampires. Jachin despises humanity. But the prophecy - and passion - binds them in ways they could never have imagined.

Ways that may heal the past, and change the future. APB $14.95

Soarer's Choice (Corean Chronicles 06)

The civilisation of the Alectors, which has farmed and developed all life on Corus to produce sustaining life force for their vampiric civilisation, must move wholesale from one planet to another every few thousand years as it exhausts the life force of another world. This time, two worlds have been prepared, and the time is at hand for the great move.

Corus is looking like the loser, to be abandoned by the civilising forces of the government of Alectors and used as a dumping ground for malcontents. This neither bodes well for the future of human civilisation, nor for the honest Alectors such as Dainyl, trying to hold everything together, as all systems are failing.

But the mysterious Ancients, the Soarers, are a force to be reckoned with, and they may hold a powerful and destructive trump card. APB $14.95

Temeraire (Temeraire 01)

Captain Will Laurence has been at sea since he was just twelve years old; finding a warmer berth in Nelson's navy than any he enjoyed as the youngest, least important son of Lord Allendale. Rising on merit to captain his own vessel, Laurence has earned himself a beautiful fiancée, society's esteem and a golden future. But the war is not going well. It seems Britain can only wait as Napoleon plans to overrun her shores.

After a skirmish with a French ship, Laurence finds himself in charge of a rare cargo: a dragon egg bound for the Emperor himself. Dragons are much prized: properly trained, they can mount a fearsome attack from the skies. One of Laurence's men must take the beast in hand and join the aviators' cause, thus relinquishing all hope of a normal life.

But when the newly-hatched dragon ignores the young midshipman Laurence chose as its keeper and decides to imprint itself on the horrified captain instead, Laurence's world falls apart. Gone is his golden future: gone his social standing, and soon his beautiful fiancée, as he is consigned to be the constant companion and trainer of the fighting dragon Temeraire... BPB $22.99

Throne of Jade (Temeraire 02)

Captain William Laurence of the British Air Corps and his dragon, Temeraire, begin their slow voyage to China, fearful that upon landing they will be forced to part by Imperial decree. Temeraire is a Celestial dragon, the most highly-prized of all draconic breeds; famed for their intelligence, agility and most of all for the Divine Wind - their terrible roar capable of shattering the heavy timbers of war ships, shattering woodland and destroying other dragons mid-flight. Temeraire's egg was captured and claimed by the British at sea, but he was meant to be the companion of the Emperor Napoleon and not captained by a mere officer in the British Air Corps.

The Chinese have demanded his return and the British cannot refuse them - they cannot afford to provoke the Asian super-power into allying themselves with the French - even if it costs them the most powerful weapon in their arsenal and inflicts the most unimaginable pain upon Laurence and his dragon. BPB $22.99

Black Powder War (Temeraire 03)

With the Chinese threat neatly dissolved, Temeraire is free to return to Britain and continue to help his friends defend their country. But before they board the ship, Laurence - now a member of the Chinese Imperial family by adoption - receives orders from the British Air Corps that he and Temeraire are not to sail with the British forces. Instead they must take the shorter route to rendezvous by the English Channel, and stopping in Istanbul to collect three dragon eggs which the government have purchased at great expense from the Turkish.

But the overland flight is fraught with danger. They will have to scale mountains and cross deserts, evade Napoleon's aggressive infantry and hide from unpredictable feral dragons. And even before they leave, they discover that Lien has left China before them, intent upon revenge. She wants to destroy Temeraire by stripping him of all that he holds dear, and being a celestial dragon, she has the power and intelligence to carry out her terrible threat. BPB $22.99

The fourth novel in Stephanie Rowe's hilarious Immortally Sexy series features the devil's new right-hand woman, and the assassin who loves her. Paige Darlington has a problem. See, she's the former apprentice to Satan's right hand, Becka Gibbs. As a result, she's got this pretty much all consuming need to be bad... not her fault, right? Well, that will be a small comfort when she loses all human emotions, including the ability to love and care about those who matter to her. To keep his brother alive, Jed Buchanan works for Satan Jr., the heir to hell and the most evil being in existence. Jed has been forced to do a lot of unsavoury things during his time on the 'job' and his latest assignment - killing Becka Gibbs - isn't pleasant either. It only gets more complicated when he arrives at Becka's apartment, and inadvertently attacks Paige, a beautiful, sexy demon who decides that saving his black soul will be just the thing to keep her own from rotting. But can the Devil's minion and the Devil's assassin possibly find true love? APB $14.99

The Crystal Skull

The end of the world starts now...

Ancient wisdom predicts the end of the world with uncanny precision. But it also provided the key to staving off apocalypse: a flawless sapphire of incomparable beauty carved into the perfect likeness of a human skull. Hidden for four centuries, a crystal skull of exquisite beauty has just been found by Stella Cody, who also inherits its legacy of dark secrets, intrigue, and murder.

Facing an increasingly implacable enemy, Stella and her lover, Kit, struggle to crack the code that hides the Skull's intended resting place.

Their search takes them from the intellectual rigour of Cambridge University to the untamed wildness of England's prehistoric stone circles.

But time is against them, and they have days - hours - left to uncover the secret that may yet save the world. TP $32.95 HC $39.95

Daughter of the Crocodile (Ptolemies Quartet 02)

With Daughter of the Crocodile, Duncan Sprott continues his epic reconstruction of the story of the Ptolemies, Greek Pharaohs in Egypt from Alexander the Great to the fall of Kleopatra. The glory of the family is at its height, but now begins their bizarre slide towards disaster, via incest, murder, matricide and fratricide - an ever-rising tide of their own blood. Pleasure-loving Ptolemy II marries his reptilian sister, Arsinoe Beta, who promises to win his wars for him. Worthy Ptolemy III avenges the murder of his sister by conquering the Syrian empire . . . and marries a murderess. Ptolemy IV prefers drinking and dancing to government, maltreats his sister-wife, and lets power slip into the hands of his vicious minions, Agathokles and Agathokleia of Samos. Chaos reigns, leaving Egypt to be ruled by the six-year-old Ptolemy V - who will marry the first of the Kleopatras. Underpinning his work with massive researches, Sprott performs the miracle of reading between the lines of history, restoring the passion and emotion to a powerful tragedy. PB $24.95

Chelsea Quinn Yarbro*Borne in Blood*

The year is 1817. In Switzerland, the Count Saint-Germain leads a comfortable life with his paramour Hero, whose husband died fighting Napoleon. Saint-Germain's loving kindness cannot keep Hero from missing her children who are being raised by their hard-hearted grandfather.

The Count has become intrigued by the work of an Austrian noble investigating the properties of blood, a subject always of key interest to a vampire. But when the noble's beautiful ward fixates sexually on the Count, the vampire fears for himself and his gentle lover.

With Borne in Blood, Chelsea Quinn Yarbro's saga of Count Saint-Germain, reaches a milestone – the 20th volume of the vampire's adventures. The Saint-Germain cycle is one of our age's most compelling bodies of work of dark fantasy and horror, and the longest running series of vampire novels. Historically accurate, these deeply emotional novels have a devoted readership. Recognising her impact on the genre, the International Horror Guild named Chelsea Quinn Yarbro a Living Legend at the World Fantasy Convention in 2006. HC $50

Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone CD (Harry Potter 01 CD)

Harry Potter is the young "Wizard who Lived" in this imaginative tale of wizards, witches, and magic. Voldemort, aka 'you-know-who', is a dark wizard who kills Harry Potter's parents, vanishes, and loses his powers after trying to kill Harry. Infant Harry is left orphaned and carries with him a lightning-bolt-shaped scar on his forehead as a result of the attack on him.

This scar distinguishes him from other wizards and people.

Directly after the death of his parents, Harry is sent to live with his non-magical, or Muggle, aunt, uncle, and cousin, the Dursleys. The Dursleys are not happy with this arrangement; his Aunt Petunia and Uncle Vernon were never fond of his parents and, in fact, did everything they could to avoid them. Therefore, they make Harry's life with them for the following 10 years an absolute misery, providing him with only the absolute necessities and nothing more.

This highly acclaimed audiobook, is a must have for any Harry Potter fan. CD $65

Battlestar Galactica

Battlestar Galactica and Philosophy

Jason T Eberl

What's the point of living after your world has been destroyed? This is one of many questions raised by the Sci-Fi Channel's critically acclaimed series Battlestar Galactica. More than just an action-packed "space opera," each episode offers a dramatic character study of the human survivors and their Cylon pursuers as they confront existential, moral, metaphysical, theological, and political crises.

This volume addresses some of the key questions to which the Colonials won't find easy answers, even when they reach Earth: Are Cylons persons? Is Baltar's scientific worldview superior to Six's religious faith? Can Starbuck be free if she has a special destiny? Is it ethical to cut one's losses and leave people behind? Is collaboration with the enemy ever the right move? Is humanity a "flawed creation"? Should we share the Cylon goal of "transhumanism"? Is it really a big deal that Starbuck's a woman? $36.95

Cities and Knights of Catan (Revised)

Dark clouds are gathering over the peaceful island of Catan. Wild barbarians, attracted by the wealth of Catan, sailed to attack the country. Fortunately, warning has given Catan time to meet the danger. The size of the barbarian army corresponds to the number of cities in Catan. Thus, for Catan to fend off the barbarian attack, the players must form a knight force as strong as the barbarian force. In addition to fending off the barbarians, players compete to build the three great metropolises of Catan. Each of these magnificent centers are worth two additional victory points. To build a metropolis, players must invest in city improvements. To acquire these improvements, players must acquire the three new types of Trade Cards: Coinage, Paper, and Cloth. These cards can only be gained by building a city next to mountain, forest, or pasture hexes. $69

Bobby Charlton

My Manchester United Years

Bobby Charlton is Manchester United through and through. He was a member of the original 'Busby Babes' and has devoted his career to the club, playing in 754 games over 17 years. During that period he won everything the game had to offer, played alongside some of the greats such as Best and Law, suffered devastating defeats and was involved in one of the greatest football tragedies of all time. Here, for the very first time, he tells the story of those United years. With his beloved Reds he tasted FA Cup victory in the emotional final of 1963, won three first division championships and in 1968 he reached the pinnacle of club success, winning the European Cup. Inevitably, such highs are balanced with no less dramatic lows, such as the 1957 European Cup semi-final, the highly charged 1958 FA Cup loss which followed only weeks after the horrors of the Munich Air disaster, and the 1969 European Cup defeat by Milan. He is one of the true gentlemen of football and the legacy that Bobby Charlton gives to United is beyond compare. HC $60

Deadly Shoals (Wiki Coffin)

Wiki Coffin's ship, The Swallow, has reached the Rio Negro, an area of remote Patagonia famous for its rough gauchos and desperate revolutionaries. An area where men have disappeared without a trace.

As the resident linguist and captain's clerk on the US Exploring Expedition, Wiki is suddenly thrust into his other role as sheriff's deputy when a whalerman comes looking for his stolen schooner. Wiki takes up the hunt for missing ship, but the trail leads to something much more sinister: half-buried in a hill of salt he finds a body with its skull picked clean by vultures.

Investigating a murder under such circumstances is challenge enough, but then Wiki has to contend with the fact that the killer has set his sights on another target - the Expedition itself. PB $22.95

Whether you are an overworked employee or an entrepreneur trapped in your own business, this book is the compass for a new and revolutionary world. Join Tim Ferriss as he teaches you:

How to outsource your life to overseas virtual assistants for $5 per hour and do whatever you want.

How blue-chip escape artists travel the world without quitting their jobs.

How to eliminate 50% of your work in 48 hours using the principles of a forgotten Italian economist.

How to trade a long-haul career for short work bursts and frequent "mini-retirements".

What the crucial difference is between absolute and relative income.

How to train your boss to value performance over presence, or kill your job (or company) if it's beyond repair.

What automated cash-flow "muses" are and how to create one in 2 to 4 weeks.

How to cultivate selective ignorance-and create time-with a low-information diet.

What the management secrets of Remote Control CEOs are

How to get free housing worldwide and airfare at 50-80% off.

How to fill the void and create a meaningful life after removing work and the office.

Shane Maloney*Murray Whelan Trilogy*

Stiff

Single father and true believer Murray Whelan makes his debut in Shane Maloney's first thriller set among the ethnic feuds, union shenanigans and sexual politics of his city's working class heartland. Murray has to deal with everything from a snap-frozen Turk, the tattooed vote, a killer car and blood-sucking parasites. That's when the red-hot Ayisha knocks on his door.

The Brush-off

Winner of the 1996 Ned Kelly Prize for Crime Fiction

Political minder, brushed-off lover and art buff on the make, Murray Whelan goes looking for the big picture among the culture vultures. Whelan is at his richly futile best in this romantic comedy and drop-dead thriller.

Nice Try

When Murray Whelan is recruited to make Melbourne's bid to host the Olympics he falls head-first into trouble with the help of a savvy Aboriginal activist, a drug-crazed weight-lifter, and a gorgeous aerobics instructor in a taut blue leotard. Life gets even more complicated when he falls for the enigmatic doctor Phillipa Verstak. PB $30

Jeff Mariotte*Sleight Of Hand (Las Vegas 02)*

Join Ed Deline, president of operations for the Montecito Resort & Casino, and his protg, Danny McCoy, a former U.S. Marine and Las Vegas native, as they deal with card-counting cheaters, costly streaks of random luck, and rival casinos stealing their big-money players in the town deservedly known as Sin City.... Making sure a multimillion-dollar operation like the Montecito runs smoothly is a challenge on a good day. When the casino is overrun by a Western trade show called Stampede!, that job gets even tougher. Complicating matters is an imminent visit by a German business magnate, who will be making a televised speech from the Montecito that could have far-reaching political and economic ramifications. So while Mike Cannon is tapped to investigate the theft of some very...precious...merchandise from the Stampede! floor, Ed and Danny have their hands full coordinating safety measures with the German's private security force and the Secret Service. And when Danny uncovers the blueprint for what appears to be an assassination plan, the Montecito team must race to prevent a lethal incident of international proportions. APB $19.95

Packing Iron: Gun Leather of the Frontier West

Western gunleather is an icon of American frontier lore. This book celebrates the artistry and innovation of the craftsmen who designed the gun rigs of the old time cowboys, troopers, lawmen and Hollywood heroes. This unique art form is fully described and richly illustrated with over 400 exciting color photographs and rare historic images. This is a tremendous reference for leather craftsmen and cowboy action shooters. With 216 pages.

The Old West was won with a multitude of firearms, from single shot pistols and Colt revolvers to Plains rifles and Winchester repeaters. The variety of military and civilian gunleather that housed this romantic array of weaponry is colorfully illustrated and explained in PACKING IRON.

PACKING IRON completely and accurately describes the holsters, gunbelts, saddle scabbards and other colorful equipment which made the carrying and wearing of firearms practical. "Gun rigs" of the old time Westerners have long been recognized as collectible objects, and in recent years, greatly appreciated in interest and value.

PACKING IRON is a handsomely designed, large format, 216-page portrait of this important facet of our frontier heritage. The extensive, entertaining, fact-filled text provides a fascinating history of the evolution and style of western gunleather. In the pages of PACKING IRON you will discover gunleather produced by historic government arsenals along with famed frontier craftsman like Collins, Meanea, Gallatin and Heiser. PACKING IRON is a book no student or collector of Western Americana should be without. HC $88

Stargazer: The Life and Times of the Telescope

The telescope is literally the world's most far-reaching invention. It can unlock nature's secrets in the remotest corners of the universe. It is a time machine, allowing us to look billions of years into the past for answers to some of our most profound questions. In its 400-year history, the telescope has progressed from a crudely fashioned tube holding a couple of spectacle lenses to colossal structures housed in space-age cathedrals. The history of the telescope is a rich story of ingenuity and perseverance involving some of the most colourful figures of the scientific world. It begins in ancient times, gathers momentum through the Renaissance, with the first recorded telescope bursting onto the scene in the middle of a diplomatic crisis in seventeenth century Holland, and takes us to the limits of space with the cutting-edge telescopes of today. Written by Fred Watson, one of Australia's best-loved astronomers, Stargazer brings the story of the telescope to a general readership for the first time. BPB $24.95

Fred Watson*Why Is Uranus Upside Down? And other questions about the Universe*

Have you ever wondered what dark matter is or why galaxies collide? Or why the Moon is gradually drifting away from Earth? Space is really, really big, as Douglas Adams once pointed out, and there is no better guide to it than Fred Watson, astronomer to the stars. Fred Watson has taken the many, many questions that have been asked by listeners of his popular, long-running radio shows, and answered them in Why Is Uranus Upside Down? How can you identify the constellations? Does the Earth wobble?* Could you dump nuclear waste into the Sun?* What makes planets round?* Where's the nearest black hole?* Are there other universes?* Can we ever know everything? This highly entertaining and informative introduction to our planet and the Universe we live in is a must-read for enquiring minds of all ages. BPB $24.95

Dave Watts*Where to See Wildlife in Tasmania*

Tasmania is an increasingly popular destination for both local and international holiday-makers. Its main attraction is its large tracts of wilderness, its natural beauty and plenty of highly visible wildlife. Many of Tasmania's animals are found nowhere else on Earth, not even on Australia's mainland. This book features 29 wildlife hotspots where people have a good chance of seeing animals in their natural habitat. The key species for each spot are listed and the area and its facilities described, together with a map and notes about accessibility. Another indispensable part of this fully illustrated book is a gallery of colour photographs and descriptions of the animals likely to be encountered in Tasmania. PB $29.95

Kerry Whalley*Science Focus 2 Book and CD Pack*

The Science Focus series has been written for the NSW Science syllabus, stages 4 and 5. It includes material that addresses the learning outcomes in the domains of knowledge, understanding and skills. Each chapter addresses at least one prescribed focus area in detail. The content is presented through many varied contexts to engage students in seeing the relationship between science and their everyday lives.

Coursebook

Chapter opening pages include the key prescribed focus area for the chapter

Outcomes presented in a way that students can easily understand

Pre quiz questions to stimulate interest and test prior knowledge

Chapter units open with a 'context' to encourage students to make meaning of science in terms of their everyday experiences.

Each PFA has one double-page special feature which uses a contextual approach to focus specifically on the outcomes of that PFA.

Each unit ends with a set of questions.

The extension questions can be set for further exploration and assignment work and include a variety of structured tasks including research, creative writing and Internet activities suitable for all students.

Practical activities follow the questions.

Chapter review questions follow the last unit in each chapter.
